This child found a 'blind'

Accidents occur daily with blinds left on ranges. Report all blinds for destruction at the end of the day's work.
